Fire Levels Port Warehouse; Loss Fixed at $1.7 Million

An uncontrollable fire of undetermined origin destroyed the bulk storage warehouse of the Tri-City Regional Port on the Granite City riverfront late Monday afternoon.

Bulk Service Corp., owner and operator of the warehouse, estimated the loss at $1,750,000. It was the second time within 20 months that fire razed the warehouse building — the first time in December, 1969 — when construction of the first warehouse building was nearing completion.

The huge warehouse contained about 35,000 tons of fertilizer when the fire occurred Monday.

Fire Chief Earl Fronberger said the warehouse was not located in any fire district and that there was only one fire hydrant nearby. Firemen said they were unable to drive fire trucks close enough to the Chain of Rocks Canal to obtain water from the canal because of sand on the banks.

Granite City sent two pumper trucks with 500 gallons of water in each, and the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department responded with two 1,000 gallon tankers.

The 3,000 gallons was only enough to keep the fire from spreading along conveyor belts and from destroying a crane and machine sited near the water.

Firemen kept the flames from the dock area while a large gasoline tanker tow was pulled through the canal.

The first alarm was sounded at 5:26 p.m. Monday. By that time flames had broken through the roof and could be seen from downtown Granite City.

"When we arrived we knew trying to save the building would be an exercise in futility," one fireman commented.

Within 45 minutes of the first call the building was reduced to rubble.

Burned in the building were a new payloader owned by Bulk Service Corp., $10,000 worth of small tools and equipment owned by G. H. Sternberg Construction Co., and several conveyors which had been installed by the Sternberg builders and were to have been put into operation this week.

In Use Since Fall
The building replaced a warehouse which was destroyed by fire Dec. 14, 1969, shortly before construction was completed.

Construction of the present 60,000 ton capacity building began immediately following that fire and the building was put into operation Oct. 15, 1970.

"July was the first month in which we made a profit with the warehouse," Edward Anderson, manager of Bulk Service Corp., said after the fire.

The warehouse was constructed for $500,000 but $750,000 in improvements had been added since, bringing the total value of the facility to $1,250,000, Anderson said.

In addition, 35,000 tons of potash, soda ash and other fertilizers, valued at about $60 per ton, were stored inside the building.

It is unknown how much of the $2,100,000 worth of fertilizer was damaged, Anderson said, but he said that the fertilizer does not burn and much of it will be salvageable.

Salvaging Fertilizer
The fertilizer was owned by Bulk Service customers. Work was begun yesterday morning to clear away the fertilizer. "If it rains, we will have a problem. All that fertilizer will melt," Anderson commented.

Carl Ranli, manager of the Tri-City Regional Port, said the fire "is a big blow." He said that barges scheduled to load and unload at the port will have to be rerouted to other ports, which will mean a loss to the local port.

The warehouse was insured for $500,000, the initial construction cost, according to Anderson. When asked if it would be rebuilt, Anderson said, "I don't know, we will have to wait and see what the insurance people say."

WAREHOUSE AND CONVEYOR BLAZE at the Bulk Service Corp. installation at the Tri-City Port were destroyed by fire Monday at a loss of $1,750,000. In top photo the closed conveyor system from the Chain of Rocks Canal to the warehouse burns as firemen, on the far side of the railroad cars, fight to keep the flames from spreading to the dock facilities. In bottom photo the twisted metal framework, held up by mountains of fertilizer, smolders as the fire burns itself out. Lack of water prevented efforts to halt the blaze in the warehouse. (Related pictures on Page 2.)

Madison Adopts $282,785 Tax Levy GC School Enrollment Up Slightly

The Madison City Council approved in regular meeting Tuesday night an annual tax levy extending $282,785 in personal property and real estate taxes for operational purposes during the 1971-72 fiscal year. The amount represents that part of a $358,067 budget to be financed by taxes.

The levy provides $40,000 for garbage collection and disposal at a rate of 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

A total of $39,000 each for police and fire protection will be raised from rates of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for each department. An additional $38,000 will be obtained for the police pension fund at a rate to be determined by the county clerk. A total of $42,000 is extended for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and $10,000 is levied for city liability insurance.

The levy calls for $20,000 for street purposes at 10.166 cents per $100 valuation with an additional levy of 4.166 cents for special road projects.

For Library Fund
A total of $17,760 will be collected for support of the public library at a rate of 2 cents per $100 in property valuation and $9,400 will be raised for the public benefit fund.

A levy of 6.67 cents will provide $16,540 for playground and recreation purposes and $1,750 will be collected for civil defense.

The levy received unanimous support by the council and was passed on the first reading.

Bids for two 1971 police cars were rejected at the suggestion of the purchasing committee which recommended that bids for 1972 cars should be received instead. Under the price, rent and wage freeze, the price for 1972 cars is the same as for 1971 cars.

The council also approved a request for bids for a 1972 pickup truck for the Humane Department. The bid specifications call for a 7½ ton pickup with an open bed for which the city will build a cage. The Directives from the Office of Emergency Preparedness, the agency which is monitoring the freeze, indicated yesterday that about 80% of the nation's teachers would qualify for increases under new guidelines. Hours later, Washington officials apparently reversed that position and indicated that most increases for teachers would have to wait until the expiration of the freeze.

Mrs. Edwards is a graduate of Granite City High School where she majored in art and graduated from SIU-Carbondale with a B.S. degree in art education. She also studied portraiture at Washington University, St. Louis, and studied privately with B. Copp, a painter and Paul Marquis of St. Louis. She is currently teaching an adult oil painting class in her home and has taught children's art class during the summer. For the past two years she has served as a substitute teacher in the Granite City, Edwardsville and Collinsville school systems.

2 Youths Charged With Picking Marijuana

Victor Davis, 17, of 33 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and a 14-year-old juvenile were arrested at Bissell and West Second Street in Venice at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday and charged with illegal possession of marijuana. Davis also was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Officers said they saw the two in Lee Park in Venice stripping marijuana leaves from plant stems and placing the leaves in a large paper bag. When officers approached, the two ran with the paper bag. Seven stems from the plants were found on the ground.

After they were arrested, officers said, they admitted they had picked the marijuana along the railroad tracks near the Broadway underpass and had brought it to the park to remove the leaves.

They said they hid the bag behind the dog pound where police recovered it a short time later, officers reported. Davis was placed under $2,000 bond and the juvenile was released to his parents pending an appearance before a juvenile officer.

Park District Weekend Ozark Trip Oct. 15-17

A three-day weekend excursion into the scenic Shepherd of the Hills region of southwestern Missouri's lake country is being arranged for Oct. 15-17, under the auspices of the Granite City Park District.

Reservations will be limited to 45 persons and must be received at the Wilson Park office by Wednesday, Sept. 15. Harold Brown, superintendent of parks and recreation, said today.

Excellent response to the park district's experimental bus excursions into the Ozark area the past five autumns prompted the first weekend trip last fall and the one planned next month, Brown said.

The weekend selected for the trip coincides with the popular Arts and Crafts Festival at Silver Dollar City and accommodation in the area is limited, the park official said, explaining the early deadline for reservations. Excursionists will stay at the Roark Motor Lodge in Branson, Mo., Friday and Saturday nights, returning to Granite City about 6 p.m. Sunday.

A trip to Silver Dollar City will be made Saturday and transportation will be available for those wishing to attend the Shepherd of the Hills play the same evening.

Charges quoted by the park official include roundtrip transportation by chartered bus and accommodation for the two nights. Prices vary according to room occupancy. Brown noted, and none include charges for meals or extra sight-seeing trips.

Transportation and room fees for the weekend excursion are set at $43 — single occupancy; $27 each — double occupancy; $24.34 each — three people; and $21 each — four people. The bus will depart from the Wilson Park rink pavilion at 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15. Additional information may be obtained by calling the park office, at 877-3059.

Howard Dougherty, 17, of 2128 Washington Ave., pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and curfew violation Monday in court in Granite City. He was fined $50.

A two-car collision at the intersection of Edison Avenue and 26th Street at 3:35 p.m. Tuesday resulted in injuries to three people and damage to a house and yard in the 2600 block of Edison Avenue.

Following the collision, Mrs. Koch auto veered from the pavement, traveled through front yard at the home of Mrs. Lois Reed, 2601 Edison Ave., and struck the residence of Mrs. Velma McIlvay, at 2605 Edison Ave. Damage was listed to both the yard and dwelling.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Koch and his wife, Mrs. Ann Koch, a passenger in the car. Both were admitted.

Mr. Koch suffered lacerations to the right side of the face, had sutures taken in the scalp and face and underwent x-rays of the skull, facial bones and spine.

Johnson Bowls 300 Game in League Action

Bill Johnson, a member of the Independent A Men's League, bowled his first ABC-sanctioned 300 game in league play Tuesday night at the Bowland Lanes.

He added games of 203 and 179 pins for a 882 series. Johnson, who has been bowling 15 years, had rolled one other perfect game but it came in non-league play.

The 36-year-old kegler will receive a diamond ring or similar jewelry from the American Bowling Congress and a cash award from Bowland.

He bowls in three leagues, and the Tuesday night feat boosted his average to 217, though he says his normal average is 195.

The 12 strikes in a row came on lanes 19 and 20. Johnson, married with three children, resides at 2838 For tune Drive and is employed as a drafting engineer by Illinois Power Co.

Dodge Colt 2-door coupe

Introducing the most car for your money. DODGE COLT.

The Colt comes in four different models: 2-door coupe, 2-door hardtop, 4-door sedan and station wagon.

To show you what a bargain a Colt is—all that good stuff you see up there in the little pictures is standard—on all models.

The flow-through ventilation, disc brakes, adjustable steering column, incredibly efficient engine, trunk-lid antenna (except the wagon)—they're all standard.

Of course, so are the variable-ratio steering and the four headlights (instead of the two you get on a lot of small cars). And the fully synchronized, floor-mounted, 4-speed gearbox. (We think it's the easiest shifting transmission in the industry.)

See the new little Dodge Colt today, at your nearest Dodge Colt dealer's. We think you'll agree with us. For a little car, it's a lot of car.

Jones Tries for 5th Consecutive Sprint Feature Win Tomorrow

Bubby Jones of Danville, Ill., will be racing for his fifth consecutive sprint feature victory at the Tri-City Speedway tomorrow night after winning races at Springfield, Ill., Sunday, Aug. 21, here last Friday, at the Capital City Speedway in Jefferson City, Mo., last Saturday night and at Springfield again Sunday.

A feature victory tomorrow night also would give Jones a record of three consecutive feature wins at the Tri-City Speedway. As point leader at the local race, he is favored to win tomorrow night despite tough competition from Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., who is second in the point race, and W.B. Spaulding of Pontoon Beach, holding the third position.

Utz has failed to appear at the local track since he defeated Jones Aug. 13 to take the point lead. Since then, Jones has accumulated a 500 point lead over Utz and if his luck continues, he will likely win the $1,200 point winner's prize at the end of the racing season.

The late model stock cars will compete with the sprinters in tomorrow night's double header with stock point leader Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights, Ill., attempting to revenge last week's loss to Spaulding who trails by only 10 points.

Despite a feature and heat victory last week here, Spaulding was unable to gain on Myers as the Rosewood Heights driver earned second in the feature, second fast time and fourth in his heat. Each driver earned 130 points last week bringing Myers from 1,220 points to a new total of 1,350 and Spaulding from a tie with Bobby Stanton of East Alton at 1,120 points to 1,230 for second place. Stanton is third with 1,170 points.

Tomorrow will provide a last opportunity for stock drivers to practice on the half-mile Tri-City clay track before the $3,000 Diamond Jubilee stock race here Friday, Sept. 10.

The winner of that event will earn $500. From 30 to 35 cars are expected to earn berths in the 75 lap feature that night, which is reserved for stock cars only.

Qualifications tomorrow will begin at 7 p.m. with the first heat races slated for 8:30.

Keen Wins Cycle Point Crown, Season Ends

Neal Keen of St. Louis was officially named the motorcycle speedway champion at the Tri-City Speedway Tuesday night after the final race of the season. Keen added points for a feature win plus heat and semi-feature victories Tuesday night to give him a total of 48 points for the season. His closest competitor was Charles Chapelle of Flint, Mich., second, with 29 points while Gordon Dusenberry of Wichita, Kan., was third with 18.

The largest crowd ever drawn to a weekly motorcycle race here was on hand Tuesday as 1,500 fans cheered Keen to victory in the feature, followed by Chapelle and Frank Gillespie (national No. 22 of Berkeley, Calif.). Gillespie, Keen and Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Tex., were heat winners and Ed Gahn of St. Charles, Mo., won the non-money heat. Chapelle won the trophy dash and second semi-feature.

Trojan Grid Coach Makes No Predictions

"We'll be at every game and you can quote me," head football coach Al Vander Harr said in commenting on the upcoming Madison grid season, and that was the only prediction the Trojan coach would make. The final roster for the Trojans has yet to be established as they are still adding and subtracting to the team line ups with 65 boys out for football. "Our backs look good and are running well," the mentor said. "We have two starting backs—Roger Glasper and Ed Chandler—returning, which will help. We won't have any weight or experience on the line this year. In fact, we will probably be starting a couple of freshmen or sophomores."

The Trojans play their first game at 4 p.m. Sept. 17 at home against Central of St. Louis.

Central has been on the practice field since Aug. 15, but the Trojans started Aug. 23 according to the Illinois rules.

Suit Filed to Force Repair of Dunbar School

A suit seeking to compel the Madison Board of Education to make extensive repairs to Dunbar School and to provide equal education for students there was filed by five parents of Dunbar pupils Tuesday afternoon in Madison County Circuit Court.

The board, which has some repair work scheduled, is having professional inspections made to prove that the building is safe and suitable for use by the children.

The board was ordered to file an answer to the complaint or make an appearance in court by Tuesday when a hearing may be held.

Meanwhile, about 500 children remained out of school which has been open since Wednesday of last week.

The three-count mandamus action was filed by Rex Carr, East St. Louis attorney, in behalf of Mrs. Joyce Crawford, Mrs. Alice Jackson, Mrs. Elsie Wiggins, Mrs. Effra Smith and Mrs. Barbara Madison.

Ask Safe School. In addition to extensive repairs, the parents ask that the board be forced to furnish the Dunbar children "sufficient and equal schools, and that the board enroll children in a school 'having safe and adequate educational facilities' until the school is improved."

Attempts were made by some children Monday to enroll in Burr Grade School and Madison Junior High School. Fred Riddle, superintendent of schools, said it is impossible to accommodate Dunbar students in other schools without going into a platform system.

The parents, in the complaint, claim Dunbar is "unfit and unsafe for school attendance," that "the education at Dunbar is inadequate and unequal to the education in other schools in the district," and that children at Dunbar have been receiving "an inferior, inadequate and second-rate Announcing there are 25 active members in the local organization, Mrs. Wittevoegel gave a resume of the programs planned for the fall and winter months. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Millie Chandler and Mrs. Nancy Rosales, secretaries at Grigsby JHS, who conducted the group on a tour of the school and facilities. The Sept. 27 meeting will be at the Illinois Power Co.'s Granite City offices. A program on "Lighting" will be given by Mrs. Jo Meyer.

CHEERS TO YOU. Granite City High School cheerleaders left their car as the Youth Parade stopped at City Hall during Youth Day activities and led a cheer for spectators.

OBEYING COMMANDS from Granite City Officer Ralph Parmley, holding leash by ladder, Kirk, a police dog, leaps from a board atop a ladder after walking across the board, six feet in the air. Officer Richard Woods, who assisted in the demonstration for Police and Fire Day, watches at right.

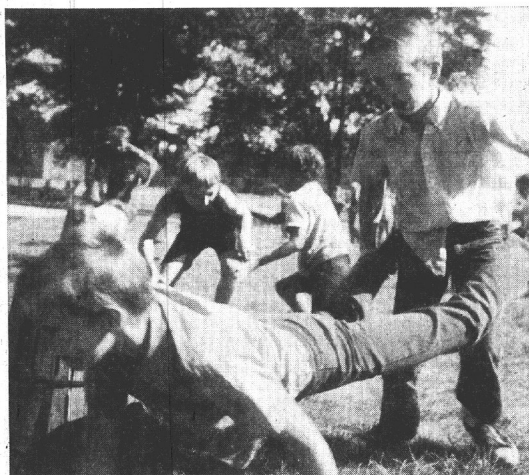

A DIRECT HIT. Pam Polson cringes as a raw egg splatters on her neck during the egg-throwing contest at Wilson Park as part of the Jubilee Youth Day program. The girls wore football helmets and goggles and held cardboard shields to stop the eggs, but far too many slipped by the shield. When the event ended the girls were covered with raw eggs.

"LOOK MA, I'M WINNING." Little Lisa Landys calls as she clears the finish line in the sack race with Bob Mann clearing the swimming pool behind her in a valiant attempt to gain ground. The race was one of the old fashioned games of skill and dexterity at Wilson Park.

WELL TRAINED and obedient, Kirk, Granite City police dog, returns a pistol to Officer Ralph Parmley after taking it from a "robber" in a demonstration at City Hall during Jubilee Police and Fire Day.

"NOW WHERE?" Kevin Williams, standing, asks as his wheelbarrow buddy Larry Pointer rounds a barrel in the lead of the race. Behind them other contestants rapidly change positions for the last leg of the event at Wilson Park during Youth Day activities.

A FAVORITE SPECTATOR EVENT was the egg throw at Jubilee Youth Day activities at Wilson Park. Here Sandy Weissenborn, in football helmet, prepares for the impact of the first egg thrown at her. The target girls were not the only victims of the sport. Many spectators were caught in the splatter of the raw eggs.

THE BEGINNING OF A MESS. Children literally dove head first into the watermelon-eating contest with everything but their hands getting into the act. Moments later these clean faces were covered with watermelon and the table was a disaster area of rind and seeds. The event was a feature of Jubilee Youth Day.

SOCIETY

MRS. PHILIP JAMES BIGLEY, the former Miss Barbara Jeanne Kuhn, whose wedding took place Aug. 20 in Chesterfield, Mo.

Bigley-Kuhn Wedding At Chesterfield, Mo.

Miss Barbara Jeanne Kuhn, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Kuhn, 204 River Bend Drive, Chesterfield, Mo., was married Aug. 20 to Philip James Bigley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Parker W. Bigley of LeMay, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

The 7:30 p.m. ceremony took place at the Incarnate Word Church in Chesterfield, with the Right Rev. Anthony Scholten, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents, celebrating the Nuptial Mass.

Tall white tapers in hurricane shades, encircled at the base with daisies in colors to match the bridesmaids' bouquets, lighted the center aisle of the church.

Thomas Murray of Pittsburg, Kans., was the vocalist accompanied at the organ by Miss Mary Thomas.

The bridal gown, fashioned of candlelight peau de soie with seven-train, was trimmed with ribbon lace in a wide collar extending from the mandarin neckline. Deep cuffs of lace were repeated on the wrist length sleeves and bordered the hemline of the long skirt and train.

A full length veil of illusion net was attached to a lace appliqued queen's cap and she carried a nosegay of gardenias and white roses.

Mrs. Robin Scully of Pittsburg, Kans., was matron of honor, with Miss Mary Beth Kuhn, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Miss Judy Kuhn, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. B. R. O'Connor.

The honor attendants wore gowns designed and made by the bride of ivory eyelet over pastel shades of lavender, pink, yellow and blue. They carried nosegays of multicolored daisies.

Edward Tonkili was best man serving with William Bates, Gerry Weaver and Victor Buehler of Granite City as groomsmen. The bride's brother, Thomas Kuhn, and the groom's brother, James Bigley were ushers.

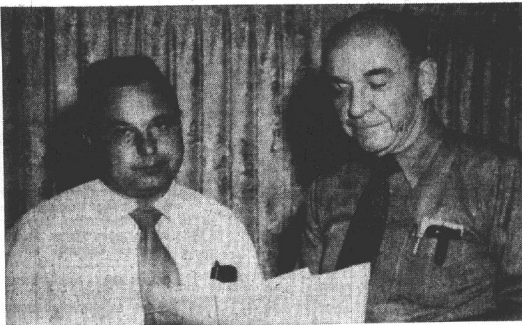

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony at the Naval Officers Club at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

The former Miss Kuhn attended Norix Hall and Kansas State University. Mr. Bigley graduated from Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University. He is a four-year veteran of the U. S. Navy, having served on the USS Chicago, and currently is employed as service manager at a St. Louis department store.

Couple Married After 51 Years Apart

A love affair that spanned 51 years and 8,000 miles separation culminated this week in the marriage of Miss Frieda Callies, 79, of St. Louis, and Edward Gieselmann, 75, of Leeds, England.

The wedding took place Aug. 25 at the Ebenezer Lutheran Church in St. Louis. The Rev. Elmer W. Callies, Memphis, Tenn., a nephew of Miss Callies, officiated.

Among the many well-wishers greeting the couple was the Leonard Gieselmann family of Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo. Gieselmann is employed as stereotype foreman at the Granite City Press-Record and the bride is a relative of Mr. Gieselmann.

For 24 years the former Miss Callies received a card every June 27, telling her that Mr. Ward had not forgotten her, even though he was married and living in England. In 1964, instead of a card, flowers arrived from Mr. Ward's sister and she learned from Mr. Ward's sister that his wife had died that year.

The couple worked together in 1920 at the Rosenthal-Sloan millinery house in St. Louis. In June of that year, Mr. Ward learned that he would have to return to England because his mother was ill.

The following month he left, but he and Miss Callies continued to correspond, although circumstances prevented him from returning to the United States.

In 1939 Mr. Ward married and Miss Callies stopped writing, but every June 27 she received a card signed "Remembering you and 'Waltz Dream'." The latter referred to a St. Louis Municipal Opera performance of "Waltz Dream" which the couple attended on June 27, 1920 when their romance began.

Mr. Ward went into government service in England and Miss Callies worked at the millinery house until it went out of business several years ago.

In 1963 Mr. Ward visited Miss Callies and again in 1968. Last Thursday, he arrived in St. Louis for the wedding.

After a short honeymoon, the couple plans to live at the bride's home on Bitter Street, St. Louis.

Miss Vicki Bendel Is Bride of Dave McDonald

Lighted candles in hurricane lamps entwined with amaranth and white satin ribbon, together with altar bouquets of white carnations, provided the setting for the August 21 wedding of Miss Vicki Bendel and Dave McDonald, at St. John United Church of Christ in Collinsville.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 6:30 p.m. by the Rev. Donald Sabbert and a reception was held afterward at the VFW Hall.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Bendel and the late James Bendel of Collinsville. Mr. McDonald's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McDonald, 1583 Spring Ave., Granite City.

During the ceremony, Miss Irene Kunneman, accompanied at the organ by William Hart, sang "We're Only Just Begun," "A Time For Us," and the Lord's Prayer.

Escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Paul Werner, the bride wore a pure white Chantilly lace gown styled with a sabrina neckline etched with pearls and sequins. Long sleeves were set into the molded bodice and the very bouffant skirt, worn over layers of crinoline and formed of tiered ruffles of lace, ended in a full cathedral train.

An imported veil of silk illusion also tiered, was secured by a pearl Juliet headpiece. She carried a bouquet of multicolored flowers. Miss Jeanne Kramer of Collinsville, was maid of honor, and Misses Bonnie Blaylock, of Collinsville, Carol Spengler of Highland and Linda McDonald of Granite City, were bridesmaids.

The attendants were dressed alike in radiant blue chiffon gowns with scoop necklines banded with white Schiffl embroidery flowers around the neck, encircling the waistlines, and trimming the long sleeves. Soft bows of white grosgrain ribbon ended in streamers down the length of the skirts.

Matching Juliet headpieces were secured by radiant veils. All carried bouquets of yellow daisies, blue cornflowers and pink Elegance carnations.

Stacy Burton was flower girl and Paul Werner, the bride's nephew, carried the rings. The former, wearing a blue chiffon ruffled dress with daisy trim and a headpiece of daisies, held a yellow daisy nosegay.

Mark Holzhouser of Granite City was best man, serving with Chuck Wessell of Cape Girardeau, Mo., Mike Cook of Collinsville, and Dennis McDonald, Randy Cook and Ralph Sharp, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother chose a beige chiffon dress trimmed with gold, with gold accessories, while the bridegroom's mother selected a pink dress and matching accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

The bride is a graduate of the Collinsville High School and is employed by a Collinsville bank. Mr. McDonald is a 1971 graduate of the University of Illinois.

Byrd-Brunner Nuptials At Shermans Dale, Pa.

Of interest locally was the wedding Aug. 21 in Shermans Dale, Pa., of Miss Phyllis Ann Brunner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brunner of Rural Route One, Shermans Dale, and Gerald H. Byrd, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Byrd of Licking, Mo., formerly of Madison.

The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Calvin R. Beveridge at Mt. Gilead United Methodist Church and a reception followed at the Carroll Elementary School.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Landis, organist, and Mrs. Jeffrey Welker, vocalist.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white dotted Swiss with Venice lace trim. It was designed with a mandarin neckline, long bishop sleeves, an Empire bodice with a sheer yoke, and a cathedral length mantilla of illusion bordered with lace. She carried a nosegay of white daisies and yellow roses.

The attendants chose blue dotted Swiss gown with scoop necks, short sleeves with deep ruffles, Empire bodices accented with blended satin ribbon, and softly gathered skirts with ruffles at the hems. Completing their costumes were open crown picture hats trimmed with daisies and satin streamers. They carried long stem yellow roses.

Mrs. Gerald Sweger of Carlisle, Pa., a sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Janet Brunner, another sister of the bride and Miss Patricia Byrd of Madison, a sister of the bridegroom.

The little flower girl, Brenda Sampson, wore a yellow dress and carried a basket of yellow daisies and baby breath.

George Sweger was best man and William and Donald Kinner, cousins of the bride, served as ushers.

The former Miss Brunner is a graduate of West Perry High School and of the Lancaster School of the Bible in Lancaster, Pa. She was formerly a teacher at the Pensacola Christian School in Pensacola, Fla.

Mr. Byrd, a graduate of the Madison High School, has just completed four years service with the U.S. Navy.

MRS. PHILLIP LaROSE, the former Joan Koelker, whose wedding was an event of Aug. 28 at St. Mark Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

Miss Koelker Becomes Mrs. Phillip LaRose

St. Mark Roman Catholic Church in Venice was the scene of the wedding August 28 of Miss Joan Koelker and Phillip LaRose.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koelker, 69 Lincoln Ave., Venice. Mr. LaRose is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur LaRose, 519 Margaret Ave., Granite City.

Chantilly lace was used to fashion the bride's gown. It was styled with an Empire bodice and long sleeves trimmed with pearls. A pearl crown and leaves of lace and sequins held in place the bridal veil and she carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Arrangements of white flowers adorned the altar and the bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father.

Miss Susan Stern, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Kathy Scaturro, Miss Pam McKinney, Miss Sharon Maurer and Miss Connie Rotter, the bride's cousin, were dressed alike in yellow floral dotted and white net veils and crowns of pearls were worn by the attendants and their flowers were white daisies tied with green ribbon.

Gwen Hamilton, a niece of the bride, and Keith Beck, a nephew, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former, dressed like a bride, carried a small basket of daisies.

John Timmons was best man and Royce Morgan, Dale Waggoner, Dave Klein, George Compton, Robert Kalka and Edward Duckett made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The mother of the bride was attired in a light pink knit dress. The bridegroom's mother chose hot pink with a lace coat. Both wore matching accessories and carnation corsages.

The newlyweds will make their home at 1914 Third St., Madison.

The former Miss Koelker is employed by the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis. Mr. LaRose is an employee of the St. Louis Car Division.

Wealthy Chicagoan Has Eye on Senate

By JERRY OWENS
Copley News Service

Springfield — A wealthy Chicagoan of Greek ancestry would like, in 1972, to become the second straight Greek-American to seek statewide office on the Democrat ticket.

In 1970, Michael Bakalis of DeKalb was elected state school superintendent. In 1972, businessman-attorney Angelo Georakis would like to duplicate Bakalis' feat by winning the U. S. Senate seat.

Georakis, 56, has long been one of the chief contributors to the Illinois Democratic Party. He candidly estimates his net worth to be about $5 million.

"And money will be one of the major considerations in the election," he adds.

"Some candidates are running; some are walking; I'm crawling," Georakis comments. "But if (U. S. Gov.) Paul Simon doesn't run for senator and there are no other top-notch candidates available, then I would make myself available to the slatemakers."

Georakis, a strong supporter of Simon, thinks the lieutenant governor probably will be slated for governor. "That would leave a vacuum for the Senate which should be filled by a liberal, the liberal-leaning Georakis contends.

"Percy (Republican Sen. Charles Percy, who is expected to seek a second term) should not have a free ride. He's not really the liberal he pretends to be. He tries to be all things to all people, but I think you have to lay it on the line instead of trying to be all things to all people."

Tries to be Liberal

Besides, he adds, "Percy tries to be a liberal in a conservative dominated party. If he would prove to me that he's really a liberal, and then switch to the Democratic Party like (John) Lindsay did, why then I could probably support him for senator," he says only half jokingly.

It's readily apparent that Georakis likes to talk and has a quick wit.

Georakis was head of the state Liquor Commission during the administration of the late Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. He has a law degree from Northwestern University, practices law in Chicago and has a wife and four children.

But he doesn't practice law out of economic necessity. He owns the well-known Mayor's Row Restaurant in Chicago, is chairman of the board of Barnaby's national restaurant chain and has other sizable real estate holdings.

"I'm the poor man's Clement Stone," he chuckles, referring to Chicago insurance tycoon W. Clement Stone—who is much wealthier than Georakis—chief contributor to the Republican Party.

"A good liberal candidate with a well financed campaign and prepared to work plenty hard can beat Percy," he says confidently.

Solomon Burke's Talent Can Equal Best

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

One of the injustices of today's music scene is that the luminaries' outshine the lesser-known, yet often equally sizable talents.

Take for example, MGM's recording artist, Solomon Burke. How many people in this country are aware of his fantastic musical accomplishments? Not many, unfortunately, unless they happen to be rhythm and blues lovers or have read the notes on some of the Rolling Stones' albums.

The Stones knew a good thing when they heard it and recorded three of Burke's hits — "If You Need Me," "Cry to Me" and "Everybody Needs Somebody to Love" — all of which did well for them.

"Even if it wasn't for the royalty checks, I'd still be happy with those versions of my songs," said Burke. "Actually, it's like they've taken my basic idea and said, 'Thank you for turning us on to this.' It's really heavy."

Looking Back

Looking back, Solomon claims that his life began some 12 years before he was born.

"My grandmother was a very mystical person. She predicted my birth and that I would be a great religious man, so she founded the House of God for All People and announced that I was destined to be leader," he recalled. "Now, there are temples all over the country and I hold services myself in Los Angeles, Calif., once every three months. It's not right that I should hold services personally every week."

With this in mind, it comes as a surprise to see that Burke has not, as of yet, recorded any religious music. Why?

"Well, let me put it this way — every record I make, I'm preaching," he said.

For those who have never seen him in action, he often appears on stage in full costume, consisting of long satins robes and a crown. His cool style has carried him throughout the United States, Europe and a 16-week stand at the Sands Motel in Las Vegas.

only wished he could do some of my gigs."

And then there was the time when a local disc jockey blew it and introduced Solomon as Chubby Checker during a live performance. His reaction? "What could I do? I did 'The Twist'!"

All About Albums

The mod, mod Doc Severinsen has released his new album for RCA called "Brass Roots." Johnny Carson writes, "... He enjoys doing what he does and the audience can feel it; and that's what it's all about—communication." Severinsen gives his message across with "Brass Roots," "Olefenokee," "Psalm 150" and the theme from "Love Story." An outstanding disc.

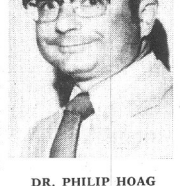

Sultry songstress Peggy Lee is doing her usual bang-up job on her new disc, "Where Did They Go?" on the Capitol label. Miss Lee gives a strong performance on today's top songs, using her exceptional touch to make them go over.

If folk music is your bag, you'll enjoy Allen Taylor's new release from United Artist records. Standouts on this album are the title song, "Sometimes," and "Song for Kathy" and "The Pied Piper."

New Pre-School Program to be Set at SIU-SW

New emphasis on pre-school educational programs will be introduced to prospective teachers this fall at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

A specially designed sequence of courses will be added to the degree program in elementary education, according to Arthur E. Jordan, chairman of the elementary education faculty. The new curriculum will be a modification of the present bachelor of science program, Jordan said, and it will allow freshmen to participate.

DR. PHILIP HOAG
To Dental School Here

The curriculum was designed by Mrs. Naomi Naylor, an instructor in the childcare services program and the elementary education faculty, and Robert E. Rockwell, coordinator of the childcare services program in Technical Education with members of the elementary education faculty.

Even though there is no state certification for early childhood education, Jordan said there is an increasing demand for trained teachers in pre-school education. He said public schools are rapidly adding kindergartens and are modifying the curriculum and organization of their primary programs.

Freshmen and sophomores may enroll in eight-hour sequences dealing with the characteristics of pre-primary children and teacher roles in early childhood education, according to Mrs. Naylor, who will teach the first sequence this fall.

During the first two years, she said students will have the opportunity to interact with young children, parents, and professional school personnel. In the junior year students will complete 20 hours of professional work, including most of the requirements for elementary education certificate.

Senior level students will concentrate on instructional materials and participate in a practicum in early childhood education at the campus day-care center or in the community nurseries.

For more information, prospective teachers may contact Arthur E. Jordan in Room 323 in the General Office Building or, at the Office of Student Services in the Education Division.

Dr. Philip M. Hoag has been named to the faculty of the School of Dental Medicine, Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

He will serve as an associate professor and chairman of the Department of Periodontics.

Dr. Hoag will come here from Aurora, where he has been in private practice since 1965. In addition he has been serving as an associate professor of periodontics at Northwestern University Dental School.

He received the certificate in periodontics from Tufts School of Dental Medicine, Boston, in 1965. His D.D.S. is from Northwestern University Dental School and he holds a bachelor of arts degree from DePaul University, Greenfield, Ind.

Dr. Hoag is a member of the Illinois State Dental Society, American Dental Association, Illinois Society of Periodontists, Midwest Society of Periodontology, American College of Periodontology, and is a fellow of the American College of Dentists.

New Students Up 15% At McKendree College

New student enrollments at McKendree College, Lebanon, are running 15 to 20% above the same period last year, according to Walter A. Smith, director of admissions.

Classes at the four-year liberal arts college begin Sept. 15, with orientation of new students beginning Sept. 10. New students still are being accepted, but Smith said they will be more pleased to meet admission requirements in time as the date draws nearer.

Last fall, McKendree had 481 students, and 454 were enrolled the second semester. Dr. Eric Rackham, president, said the school could handle about 600 students without decreasing its effectiveness as a college that prides itself on personal contact for the contemporary student.

tuition refunds at SIU-SW. Marsha Thies, right, sophomore, physical education major from St. Louis, received a partial refund on pre-paid fall quarter tuition at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. The refund was issued by K. R. Hacker, bursar. About 4,000 students are eligible for refunds totalling about $61,000, following action of the Board of Trustees to defer collection of a tuition increase adopted last January.

Results of Symposium Published at SIU-SW

The results of a symposium conducted on the Southern Illinois University - Southwestern Campus last year have been published in a book entitled, "Toward a New Liberal Education."

The book, compiled by Experimental Studies and published by University Graphics and Publications at SIU-SW, contains the presentations made by educators regarding new directions and educational approaches for the contemporary student.

Educators from several universities and colleges attended the symposium and together with SIU-SW faculty provided the material for the book, according to Mrs. Linda Ellsworth, coordinator of the publication project and symposium.

Copies of the book may be purchased in the SIU-SW bookstore or by mail from the University Graphics and Publications Office at SIU-SW for $2.

GC Soldier Leaves For Vietnam Tour

Army Private First Class Charles E. Ringering, 22, left Granite City Tuesday for Fort Granite, Wash., from where he will depart this weekend for Vietnam.

The serviceman spent a two-week leave here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ringering and sister, Susan, of Rural Route One, after graduating from a 10-week radio-communication course at Fort Knox, Ky. He joined the Army in March and has been assigned to the Army Signal Corps.

Pfc. Ringering was accompanied by his wife, the former Becky Evans and the couple's 8-month-old daughter, Christina Sue. The infant was admitted during the weekend at St. Elizabeth's hospital for treatment of a severe virus infection and remains a patient in the pediatric ward.

Prior to departing for Washington, the soldier was honored at a family dinner party. Among the guests were his

Demos Moving Toward Convention Changes

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR
Copley News Service

Washington—The Democratic National Committee, ever mindful of stinging criticisms following its 1968 nominating convention, is pulling slowly toward a variety of rule changes which will be applicable to selection of a candidate next year.

For more than a year, the hearings here and in the states to gather testimony on convention reform. Most party leaders have supported efforts of the committee commission on party structure and delegate selection.

Last week, commission chairman Donald M. Fraser reported that at least 40 states will have met a major share of the guidelines for convention reform. If Fraser's forecast is correct, the nation, which will be watching via television the party conclave in Miami in August of next year, could see a sharp reversal from the "Happy Days Are Here Again" format which has been the rule for both parties.

Agreed to Study
The party's establishment agreed to the reform study readily after the emotional convention of 1968 in Chicago. Much of the immediate post-convention criticism was aimed at making individual states more open to younger delegates those from minority flanks of the party, and in making the party more "issue oriented."

However, with the party barely a year away from the first round of the 1972 gavel, there is no concrete evidence that the convention will be as isolate and well-organized as the reformers would like.

Fraser, in a report to the full national committee, was optimistic over the degree of compliance on guidelines from 40 states, but said the commission would not be satisfied until all delegations agreed to full-scale changes.

Slow Alterations
Many of these alterations, particularly in the delegate selection process, have been slow in coming. A partial reason for this is the reluctance of Democrats to push for full-scale changes in state election laws where long-standing traditions rather than the whims of delegates at one convention, has been the guiding light.

The Democratic Party, in its drive for full alterations in the often confusing, noisy and backslapping method of selecting a nominee, has worked hard through the Fraser commission in seeking reforms. Its work, however, has been slowed by the mold history has placed on the party itself.

The "new" Democratic Party, as some strong anti-establishment critics like to describe it, is out of power but heading toward unity, matured by its 1968 experience and ready to move behind the 1972 nominee. But next year efforts to pick the nominee could be the monkey wrench in over-all work of the reform commission.

Push for Support
Much of this is due to the fact that the half-dozen or so frequently mentioned candidates for the nominations are pushing for delegate support.

Such support, if at all possible, is most welcomed by the candidates before delegates begin rolling into a city for the nomination crucial itself.

While praise for the convention reform plan is ample in Washington, it is lacking in the individual states for this reason. Local party leaders as of this writing appear more interested in who gets nominated during a wide-open campaign year rather than whether there should be rules placed in the machinery of year-round party politics.

The reform movement has the full backing of Fraser, a congressman from Minnesota and former chairman of the liberal Democratic study group within the House, and party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien.

Reps. from individual states, however, show the ambitious reforms are not catching on as quickly as hoped, particularly at guidelines relating to racial minority representation within the 1972 convention.

MARGARET BOYER

Miss Boyer's Vocal Development Cheered

When Margaret Boyer of East St. Louis entered Southern Illinois University-Southwestern five years ago she had no idea of becoming a singer. The only singing she had done was with the East St. Louis High School choir.

She will receive her master of music degree in voice tomorrow. She earned her bachelor's degree in music in June, 1970. "It was my high school choir director," Miss Boyer says, "who introduced me to Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at the local campus. She brought my mother and me over for an audition."

"I still remember the audition with Margaret," Van Camp says. "She passed the audition and made a valuable contribution to our Concert Chorale, not only as a fine musician but as one of those rare individuals who can sing in chorus as well as solo. She has the humility to blend but the power to make a tasteful but tremendous contribution to a choral forte."

According to her voice professor, Dale Moore, "Margaret is one of the best all-around singers we have ever had at SIU-SW. She can do oratorio, opera and recitals and has entered more vocal contests than any other voice major, and won or placed in many of them. "Margaret has warmth and the ability to communicate with her audience," Moore says, "and her stage presence is exceptional for one her age. People love to hear her sing. When she sang last May with the Belleville Philharmonic Orchestra she received a standing ovation."

She may teach or go to Europe for a year.

"A great retirement environment"... says Vincent Marquis

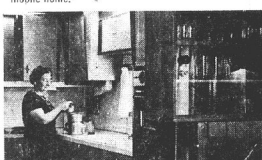

"Mobile home convenience — plus electric heat — makes living nice and easy."

"When I retired, Mrs. Marquis and I decided a mobile home was just right for us," says Vincent Marquis of Bloomington. "It's compact but has everything we need. We added a patio room and a carport. And we converted to electric heat. As far as we're concerned, you couldn't ask for a better set-up to enjoy life."

Electric heat helps anyone get a little more enjoyment out of life. It's the simplest kind of heating, usually has no moving parts at all. It's quiet. And it gives you pin-point temperature control in every room.

We'll be glad to advise you, without obligation, on electric heat, whether for your new home or your present home. Just call our office.

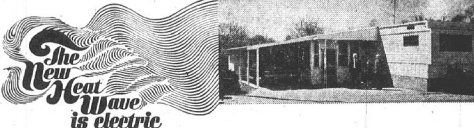

Vincent Marquis (right) and his father-in-law, Wade Gibson, take it easy in the patio room of the Marquis' mobile home.

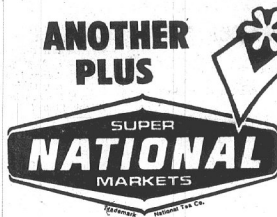

Mrs. Marquis enjoys her efficient all-electric kitchen. "Electric heat is wonderful," she says. "We can control the temperature exactly in our two bedrooms, living room, patio room, bath and kitchen."

4-H Federation Begins New Year At Meet Today

The Madison County 4-H Federation begins its new year at 7:30 p.m. today with the annual election of new officers at the George Willard farm west of Edwardsville. It is open to all 4-H'ers, families and friends of 4-H. The formal installation of officers will be held following the election.

Every member of 4-H is a federation member and each 4-H club in the county is entitled to have two voting delegates at the meetings. The purpose of the federation is to band together the 4-H clubs in a central, representative body for the improvement of the 4-H club program and the enlargement of opportunities for members.

The federation provides members with a wider area of activity, with the result that they will have added opportunities to make friendships, to develop leadership, to improve citizenship, and in general to increase interest in 4-H club work.

The federation helps plan and assist in carrying out many county activities such as: Officer's Training School, County Share-the-Fun and many other county events. They are presently making plans for activities.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Stotz to those mentioned and Mrs. Eva Arbogast, Mrs. Carmen Grider, and Mrs. Mae Lee.

Garage Burglarized
A partially disassembled lawn mower and a roller lawn chair were taken from the garage at the home of Evelyn Myint, 3003 Richmond Ave., she reported Monday.

Neighbors View Burglary
A youth seen entering the home of Robert Ryan, 4201 Maryville Road, at 1:20 p.m. Monday apparently stole a .22 caliber pistol from the home. Neighbors said a boy entered the home by tearing a screen on the side of the house and by opening the window. He left through the front door.

Truck, Auto Collide
The service truck of William F. Willis, 1720 Ferguson Ave., collided with the rear of the auto of Beverly F. Scroggins, 2504 Runey Drive, in the 2400 block of Pontoon Road at 5:40 p.m. Monday. The left front of the truck and the right rear of the auto were damaged.

Patio Roof Leak Can Be Fixed

By CHARLES A. TAYLOR
Copley News Service

Q. We have a problem with a patio roof leaking between the joints. We have tried several things but the water still leaks. We have inquired of other people and most of them have the same problem. Making you can come to our rescue.

A. I presume you have a corrugated fiber glass panel roof. When properly installed, this type of panel should not leak, unless the surface has been punctured by some heavy or sharp object. The leaks, then, must be coming from one of three places where proper installation procedures were not followed.

In hammering nails through the panels into the wood framework, did you or whoever installed the cover first drill small holes to prevent the fiber glass from chipping, cracking or splitting? Did you use the recommended flashing at the points where the panels meet the side of the house? And did you apply the proper mastic at the joints, in the areas where the panel corrugations overlap?

Neglecting any of these steps could cause leakage. The best bet is to inspect the paneling carefully and find just what is causing the leaks. Then go to a dealer who sells these panels, tell him the whole story, and ask him to sell you the mastic and other materials necessary to do a patching job.

Q. I would appreciate your telling me how to approach a problem under my house. The crawl space ground is very damp, but only in the northeast section. There are no water or sewer lines in that location. What tradesman do I call in? I also notice at the exterior base of the foundation, the paint and stucco are disintegrating. It worries me, needless to say.

A. Adequate air circulation and ventilation should be provided in the crawl space. Each wall should have louvers or vents installed, large enough to allow one square foot of opening for each 300 square feet of ground area.

The bare earth should be covered with strips of polyethylene plastic or moisture-proof building paper, overlapping the strips at least six inches and sealing the seams with roofing cement to prevent escape of moisture from the ground. The ground outside the house also should slope away from the foundation so that water drains away from the crawl space. A good carpenter should be called to install the louvers or vents, if you find that you need these, and any good handyman could install the plastic sheets by following these instructions.

The only repair for your disintegrating paint and stucco is to refinish these patches with new paint and new patching plaster or stucco if necessary. First, however, be sure that all flaky material is removed from the sections that are to be refinished.

Welfare Check Thefts May Cost $300,000 This Year

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — During the last five months 1,302 public assistance check thefts have been reported through the office of State Auditor Michael J. Howlett.

Howlett's office points out that the final losers in this type of an operation is the person who cashes the stolen check and the taxpayers of the entire state. Howlett's office theorizes that if this continues by the end of the year nearly 3,000 welfare checks will have been pilfered. Officials in Howlett's office say that these checks average around $100 each and this would mean that by the end of the year an estimated $300,000.

Apparently a great portion of the stolen checks occur in the Chicago area. Attempts are made to recover the funds. This has been met with some success. However, in some cases it may cost more to recover the pilfered check than the total amount of the check. For instance it may take $500 to recover a check that was written for less than $100.

State officials point out that the theft of the checks is not a big-time matter. It is a check here and a check there, but in the end they all add up. Because of the upgrading of check writing by the state it has become more and more difficult for any kind of widespread theft rings to operate.

It has been found that the stealing of welfare checks for the most part has been an individual operation. In an effort to make big-time theft of checks a losing operation, the Auditor's office is using special papers and inks. It is hoped that through the use of the special papers and inks it will make it more difficult for forgers to alter the checks.

Howlett's office warns that in the final analysis the solution lies in the person who is cashing the check should know the endorser.

Institutions Changing Their Heating Systems

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois is currently in the midst of changing heating systems at the various institutions either to gas, oil or low sulphur coal in an effort to comply with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's program to cut back on air and water pollution.

Heading the program on air pollution is Raymond P. Sturgis, who formally headed the General Services Department. Changes in heating systems have been made at institutions in the Chicago and East St. Louis-St. Louis Metropolitan Air Quality Sections.

For instance, changes are being engineered for the Alton State Hospital, Elgin State Hospital and the State Training School for Girls at Geneva. Low sulphur is presently being used at institutions in Manteno, Kankakee, Harrisburg, Peoria, Anna and St. Charles.

Sturgis said the low sulphur coal is obtained from the Southern Illinois coal fields but it is somewhat more expensive. He also pointed out that a "scrubber" type device is being installed at the Anna State Hospital in an effort to cut down further the emissions of sulphur content into the air.

The Chicago State Hospital also has had gas and oil facilities added to its system. Sturgis points out that the two state prisons at Joliet and mental health institutions at Manteno and Kankakee are also slated to be switched over to gas or fuel oil.

Home Burglarized

A $225 portable television and two sets of stainless steel tableware valued at $50 were taken from the home of Paul Harshany, 2428 Cleveland Blvd., he reported Monday. The home apparently was entered by forcing a rear door.

About 23 Illinois National Guard Armories from Cairo to Woodstock also have been converted either to fuel oil or gas. Work is underway at four other armories.

Sturgis said, "We are trying to do with the money which we have received. We are also going according to need."

Dear Nana -- Woman With Dog Poses Rest Home Query; Jobs for Retirees

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:

This is in answer to the lady who's worried about her pet when she goes into a home for the aged. Her letter clearly shows she shouldn't have to go into such a home. Maybe she only needs someone to come in to check on her but that's far less expensive than a home. And I'm sure it will keep her younger longer and, last but not least, happier.

For this lady to give up her dog it will have her aging plus pining away for her pet. And I'm amazed that you didn't advise her accordingly. If all else fails why can't her children adopt the dog? At least this way they would take him for visits to the home.

Mrs. G. L. L. P.S. I certainly hope my children have more sense when the time comes. If I lived near this lady, I'd take her dog. My mother is gone.

Dear Mrs. G. L. L.:

Although I'm sure the lady who's going into a rest home can't take her pet will appreciate your suggestion as a solution to her problem, I don't approve of your opinion or reasons for the elderly not going into a home for the aged.

How long has it been, if ever, since you've been in an aged home facility?

And as I've stated many times in my column, I think anyone who's against this type of living accommodations for the elderly should really know what they're like before they condemn them.

I don't know your age or how soon you'll need a rest home. But I for one would rather know what to expect than to fear something I didn't know anything about.

Rest homes, nursing homes, convalescent hospitals and aged facilities aren't a dirty name. And I think those of us who are in this type of business have a right to defend them.

Remember we see another side of this story the neither you nor anyone else could possibly understand.

I believe there is an old adage that covers this subject better than I can: "Don't knock it unless you've tried it."

Dear Nana:

I'm enclosing one of our business ads called "An Unusual Opportunity" in the hope that you'll advise your readers about it.

This is a business made just for retirees and part-time employment. We have found it to be the greatest any American could hope for if they want to work, are honest and believe in the things America stands for.

Interested contact you or the address on our ad, regardless of what part of the United States they live in.

Thank you for your kind cooperation in this matter.

Business Opportunity
Dear Business Opportunity:
Although I can't endorse a product or recommend a business opportunity that I don't know about, I'll be glad to read any further literature you have pertaining to your employment business.

After I've had a chance to evaluate this material and have sufficient information about your business I'll be happy to advise my readers accordingly.

Dear Nana:

After reading in your column about the lady who was refused a loan on her home, I don't know what to do.

Because of my age and a limited pension income I probably couldn't get a loan on my home either.

What am I supposed to do? My small home needs many repairs which I just can't afford to have done on my pension. However, I could pay a small amount monthly on a home improvement loan.

I'll appreciate any help you can be in solving my problem.

Repairs
Dear Repairs:
I don't know that I can solve your financial problems but I have a suggestion or two that may help lift the burden somewhat.

First, do you have any relatives or close friends who'd be willing to co-sign a note at the bank for you? I'm sure any banking institution would accept this type of loan application.

Second, sometime ago the state in which you reside offered a home repair allotment for those under their welfare program. Although I don't know if this allotment is still in effect, you may be eligible for some type of aid because of your age and limited pension. I'm sure your local department of social services will be able to give you this information.

Dear Nana:

In the last edition of your column a mention was made of the "Helping Hand Club."

Some years ago there was such a club in the area where I lived.

After moving to a new area I lost complete contact and have been unsuccessful in locating a local chapter.

Please advise me if there is one in our city, giving me the address and telephone number. If there is none there are details available for the possible organizing of this club.

I would appreciate all the information available at the earliest possible time.

Mrs. G. L. Mc.
Dear Mrs. G. L. Mc.:

I don't know if the "Helping Hand Club" is a national organization but I'm sure your local Chapter of Commerce can give you this information.

I'd think the churches, schools for the retarded, rest homes and convalescent hospitals in your area would greatly appreciate your efforts in wanting to start a "Helping Hand Club."

Questions on problems of the elderly may be sent to Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

Pontoon Beach Decor Score -- Living Room Hints Offered; Ironstone China Details

By BARBARA HARTUNG
Copley News Service

Q. I plan to do some decorating in my living room. The walls are paneled in gold ash and the rug in avocado. I need slip covers and draperies and curtains. I have to cover two chairs, a sofa and an occasional chair. My husband has a reclining chair that needs to be covered in the same room.

A. It sounds like you must have a fairly large room with as much furniture as you mention. So here's one suggestion: Choose a light gold, avocado, print for draperies and sofa; a heavy weave of gold, green and oatmeal (subtle stripe or plaid) for the occasional chair.

Undercurtains to match the walls and use tieback draperies. You could vary the print on the two chairs instead of on the sofa if you think the room would be better balanced, depending on your furniture arrangement.

IRONSTONE QUESTIONS
Q. We have a white ironstone bowl and pitcher set, the kind used for bathing in hotels and homes. On the bottom of both is a decorative crest. Around the crest are the words: "Royal Ironstone China, Johnson Brothers, England." Please could you tell us of the approximate age and origin and price it used to sell for?

A. Johnson Brothers was known for its ceramic work made principally for hotels. Your set would have to have been made after 1891 because it says England on it and prior to 1891 no country of origin was used.

I have not been able to ascertain the original cost.

CHIRMAN FABRIC COLOR
Q. I have just had my living room sofa and chair upholstered in a fabric with an eggshell background with two shades of avocado, gold, black, royal blue, wine and deep pink.

F. For the rocking chair cushion, the wine shade would be particularly good. Repeat whatever colors you choose to do the curtain trimming in accessories and perhaps picture mats. And use some black trivets or black accessories to complete the color coordination. I believe I'd stick to a plain color for the drapes because of the bold colors in your print.

Fresh flowers adorned the tables. The table where the guests were seated was decorated with a huge bouquet of assorted flowers. At the conclusion of the meal, Mrs. Frieda P. Valley of the Daughters of America and her group presented the flag ceremony after which she presented Clarence Green, president of the Senior Citizens group with a 3x5 American flag.

In acceptance of the flag, Mr. Green remarked that the group felt honored to have a flag presented to such a young or newly organized group. The group has been organized two months and meets at the Madison Recreation Center for scheduled meetings, and to take bus trips. The flag was erected and the group made the pledge in unison.

Mayor Mike Sasyk greeted the guests prior their leaving.

Workers Have Built America

(This is the second of two articles dealing with the progress of the labor movement in America.)

By JEFF CUSHING
Copley News Service

The sun is just breaking over the horizon, its orange glow casting long shadows over the hilly southern California landscape. The skeletons of unfinished houses stand bare in the morning quiet.

It is 6:20 and Pete Collins shifts his pickup truck into second gear and he maneuvers down the rutted road to the construction site.

He pulls to a stop beside a towering rack of lumber, opens a Thermos jug and pours himself a cup of steaming coffee.

In an hour, the construction site will be teeming with the sound of hammers and electric saws. Pete must check out today's work before his crew arrives.

As he walks through the house frames, he checks off items in his head, scratches instructions on the concrete foundations.

Pete is a framing foreman for a large construction company specializing in medium-income housing.

He has been in the building business since he was a boy pulling nails for his dad. He is only 30, but through ambition and knowledge of his trade, he pulls in about $450 a week.

The civilian labor force in America currently stands at nearly 85 million. During the short span of America's economic history, there have been vast transformations in the lives of this nation's work force.

In 1885, laborers as a rule worked a 10-hour day, six days a week. Some workers were even on seven-day schedules.

Premium pay for overtime, vacations and holidays was virtually nonexistent. Salaries dipped as low as $2 a day and seldom higher than $5.

The years have seen some great changes in the composition of America and some great changes for the men who have been responsible for literally building the nation.

Today, the nation has a minimum wage, employee benefits and myriad other advantages unheard of 100 years ago.

Instead of earning $2 a day in the 1870s, a carpenter, for example, now earns more than $8 an hour. Other trades have shown salary and benefit gains just as dramatic over the years.

While Pete Collins cannot be described as "typical" of today's blue collar worker, he does exemplify the progress of labor in America. And he knows he is lucky.

"You bet I know I'm well off," he says in a serious tone. "Man, some of the things workers in the past had to go through and the kind of dough they made really makes you respect 'em."

Pete Collins is tall, athletic and good looking. A bachelor, he enjoys playing the guitar and is ready to settle down yet.

"I've got too many irons in the fire," he claims. "I can't say I'm ready to pick up a family and brand myself. Not yet, anyway."

Pete is energetic, always looking for things to keep him busy. Besides putting in 10 or 12 hours a day on his job, he has just finished building his own home and is already making plans for another.

He spends his spare time out of doors if possible, loves horses and for entertainment he likes to go dancing.

"I don't want what some people call a typical construction worker, I guess," Pete muses. "I don't drink beer, I don't even like the stuff, and I don't spend all my time in a pool hall blowing my paycheck."

Pete is a bourbon man. On weekends and sometimes just mixed with tonic.

Pete grew up in the construction trade. Born in Nevada, he moved to work for his father on weekends and during summer vacations. After a two-year hitch in the Army, he got into the business full time and migrated to California.

"I couldn't stand being cooped up indoors at a desk pushing paper around," says Pete. "I'd rather be outside in the sun. And anyway," he states realistically, "this is where the money is."

Although Pete thinks little of the historical progress of the American laborer, he does feel he is doing a worthwhile and important job.

"It has been guys who work with their hands and their backs that have really been responsible for this country's growth," he says. "And even if we don't wear coats and ties, the U.S. sure wouldn't be where it is today without us."

Pete is politically independent and refuses to vote along party lines. Like many of us, he is somewhat worried about the current state of the economy.

"Everything keeps going up. The only guys who's making out these days is Uncle Sam. And he doesn't pay taxes," he said. Collins sees a lack of pride these days in his trade.

"Maybe we're gettin' soft or something, but there's a lot of sloppy work going on these days. Not just in building trades, but in everything from automobiles to toasters. I don't know what's behind it, but I know I don't like it," he said.

Pete however, is an optimist. "I really believe that everything will iron out. I've got a lot of confidence in this country of ours and I think things will straighten out," he said.

Pete is also pretty liberal. Many of his crew wear long hair (Collins keeps his medium length and neatly trimmed), bandanas are worn around their heads and he says,

"I don't care what these guys look like. As long as they do good jobs they can dress any way they want or wear their hair any way they want. It isn't up to me to tell them to do anything except how to do their job."

The picture painted in some quarters of today's laborer as a dumb-witted, hard-hatted, steel-toe-booted super patriot is an extremely unfair one, according to Collins.

"It just isn't so and I think it's unfair to classify everybody by saying a few bad apples. There is just as much variety politically and otherwise in this business as there is anywhere else," he said.

Amendatory Veto Procedure in Constitution To Be Given Test in Fall Assembly Session

The new Illinois State Constitution, adopted in 1970 and effective in July 1971, increased the governor's power to approve sections and disapprove other sections of legislation enacted by the General Assembly. Workmen's compensation and occupational bills will provide a test of the new procedure in the session resuming Oct. 5.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Aug. 27 approved substantial boosts in workmen's compensation benefits; maximum payments allowed for death or injury will increase 20%, following the 15% raise authorized in 1969. In both dollars and percentages, these increases are the most ever granted during a comparable period since the original law was passed in 1914.

The governor also approved benefits for pneumoconiosis—"black lung disease"—starting in January 1973 for miners employed 10 years or more. Addition of black lung disease to the Illinois law conforms with federal requirements and will provide miners with more comprehensive coverage.

In his long amendatory vetoes of some provisions of House Bills 540 and 545, the Workmen's Compensation Act and Occupational Diseases Act, Gov. Ogilvie noted that such measures historically have been treated as "agreed bills" supported by both labor and industry. But the process broke down in the January-June session. He added, "It is in the spirit of preserving this process that I am rejecting a number of the amendments. Perhaps after a more deliberative review, proposals can be agreed upon which will accomplish the goals of all concerned."

His amendatory vetoes must be approved by the Illinois Senate and House to become effective. His major actions include:

1. Approval of a new schedule of death benefit maximums raised 20%, and ranging from $21,600 for a widow to $30,250 for a widow with four or more children.

2. Approval of weekly injury benefit maximums also 20% higher, ranging from $88.50 to $109 weekly for temporary total disability and $71 to $85 for permanent injuries.

3. Disapproval of a new schedule of minimum death and disability benefits.

4. Approval of an increase in burial benefits from $750 to $1,250.

5. Veto of a 50% limit on the amount employers can recover from awards where there is a later recovery from third parties.

6. Veto of a two-year statute of limitations replacing the present period of one year.

7. Veto of a benefit period of 78 instead of 64 weeks.

8. Approval of a provision eliminating the need for opening an estate to collect for unreimbursed medical expenses of persons who die of their injuries.

It is said there are three types of people—those who make things happen, those who watch things happen and those who have no idea what has happened.

Obstacles are those frightening things people see when they take their eyes off their goal.

There is so much good in the worst of us and so much bad in the best of us that we need laws and religion for all of us.

Jubilee Now Part of History It Recalled; Book Available, Proceeds Go to Good Cause

The Granite City Diamond Jubilee has become a part of that same history which its summer-long preparations spotlighted.

As this was being written, not all of the statistical and financial totals had been tabulated. But the city's 75th anniversary observance clearly had a unifying, wholesome impact on many thousands of present and former residents.

The Diamond Jubilee will live on in memory along with the entire 1896-1971 era.

To aid their memory, Granite Cityans may wish to purchase the $3 Diamond Jubilee book. Copies of this outstanding publication are still available and proceeds will go to a good cause—a civic improvement yet to be decided.

For those who desire additional copies of the Press-Record's big Aug. 16 Granite City Diamond Jubilee issue, there are still plenty on hand at the Press-Record office. The cost is 15 cents.

Granite City Army Installation a Fine Name

"Granite City Army Installation" is a fine name for the former Granite City Army Depot, which lost the latter title upon being inactivated at the end of June.

The military base has continued to operate at a reduced level as Headquarters, Installation Support Activities, U. S. Army Aviation Systems Command. That designation will continue in official communications, but new information signs posted in Venice and Granite City describe to motorists how to reach the "Granite City Army Installation."

We had editorially suggested "Granite City Support Installation" but Major General Fred Kerner, commanding general of the Aviation Systems Command, has provided an even better name.

As "Granite City Army Installation," the former Engineer Depot and Army Depot has a title adaptable not only to its present support mission but also to whatever expanded role the future may bring. And there won't be any confusion about where the base is located.

New Senators-Including Adlai Stevenson III-Are Speaking

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — A group of freshmen senators is quietly attempting to slip away from a time-honored dictum of the upper house that newcomers should be "seen and not heard."

One of the first to make a pull at his bonds was Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, Democrat from Illinois, who led a floor effort in the Lockheed loan guarantee debate to require Congressional ratification of all future deals with the company, Stevenson, in his first test of parliamentary skills, lost by a hefty margin.

"Stevenson gets his feet wet and we all have to do it sometime," a colleague remarked.

Apparently also ready to make some unusual freshman noises is Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas.

Bentsen, who must share the Texas political limelight in the Senate with peppery Republican John Tower, has submitted a request to the rules and appropriations committees asking for more money to establish branch offices in his home state.

This effort, being kept under wraps by Bentsen until the appropriate time later in the 92nd Congress for approval of supplemental spending, is being backed by other Senate freshmen, including John Tunney of California and James Buckley of New York.

Bentsen, apparently willing to take the impending criticisms of empire building, says senators who represent states with more than 10 million population can't do their jobs adequately under the two-district rule now in effect.

If Bentsen gets his way, Democratic Tunney could get federal funds to operate a Senate office opened recently in San Diego on his own accord.

During their first six months in office, the new senators had played the game by the rules and kept quiet (Bentsen delivered his first major floor speech on the same day that Stevenson's amendment was being shot down).

And along with others he had dutifully limped in on such rituals as acting as presiding officer during early hours of Senate sessions when a half-dozen or so members are normally on the floor.

The restlessness of the new senators affects both Democrats and Republicans.

Sources predict they will be the first to sign on when the upper house is caught up again with arguments asking for changes in the seniority rules.

Summer 'Head Start' Seen as Successful

The eight-week summer Head Start program for 528 children, held by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, included 46 classes in public schools in Madison County at Alton, Bethalto, Granite City, Collinsville and the Madison-Venice area. In Granite City, two of the nine classes were in housing projects.

The program was funded by $181,485 Community Action Program grant approved by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. Most of the children were four and five years old, except for 40 six-year-olds. At least 30 were emotionally disturbed, Head Start Director Raymond Ready reports in a summary of the program.

Ready, of 2200 Briar Cliff Drive, Alton, a retired curriculum administrator for the Alton board of education, cites these benefits the children received:

Complete physical and dental examinations, with follow-up care by a doctor if necessary; hearing and vision testing; nutritious meals; and field trips.

The educational program consisted of pre-kindergarten games and activities. Volunteer workers included parents, older brothers and sisters, nurses and doctors.

Ready said most of the children have learned how to speak and listen better, play together, get along together and have a better interest in school. "If possible," he added, "some of the children will have the same teachers who taught them this summer."

"We had a very good program this year," Ready says, "and we expect to have a better program next year." He notes that the program's strongest support was from parents.

Donna DeYoung Becomes Mrs. Robert H. Fouts

Donna Kaye DeYoung, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Rhoads of Madison, became the bride of Robert Harold Fouts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fouts, 1901 Second St., Madison on Aug. 28.

The wedding vows were exchanged in a 1 o'clock afternoon ceremony at the Rhoads family home, 1539 Market St., Madison. Judge William E. Johnson, a friend of the couple, officiated.

A canopy of pink and white streamers and wedding veils arranged near the fireplace, together with lilies of the valley, decorated the residence. The ceremony was performed at the same hour and on the same date as the bride's parents wedding 23 years earlier.

Miss Debora Rhoads, a sister of the bride, and Paul Lusk were the couple's only attendants. Members of the immediate families were present.

The bride was attired in a full-length white organza gown with pink daisy trim. A high, rounded neckline was edged with lace, as were the three-quarter length sleeves. Insets of lace enhanced the bodice of the gown and a large white crocheted picture hat was worn on her hair. She carried a nosegay of white daisies centered with pink roses and entwined with white ribbons.

The maid of honor wore a full-length frock of pink organza designed in similar style to the bridal gown. She also wore a crocheted picture hat and held a nosegay of pink daisies with white roses and pink ribbons. The bride's mother chose a sleeveless dress of blue brocade with a blue chiffon skirt. Mrs. Fouts selected a yellow dress with beige accessories.

Both mothers and a grandmother, Mrs. Frank Rhoads, wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held later the same day at the Firemen's Hall in Madison. Streamers and bells decorated the hall and guests were served wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Julia Volok, an aunt of the bride. Miss Betty Fouts, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Madison High School. Mrs. Fouts, a June 1967 graduate, is now employed by Blue Cross, Inc., St. Louis.

Her husband, a three-year Air Force veteran who served in Vietnam, is now employed in Madison. Upon their return from a wedding trip they will reside in Madison.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Strain of Salem, Mo., the bride's uncle and aunt; the bridegroom's grandfather, Frank Pleimann of St. Louis; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Vesta and sons of Riverton, Ill., and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gonzalez of High Ridge, Mo.

BRIDE-TO-BE. Miss Mary Ann Mlinarec, whose engagement to William Whitley Bright is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fran Mlinarec, 2541 Benton St.

Bright-Mlinarec Betrothal Told

Announcement has just been made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mlinarec, 2541 Benton St., of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Ann Mlinarec, to William Whitley Bright, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bright of Louisville, Ky.

A 1969 graduate of the Granite City High School, Miss Mlinarec is now a junior at the University of Alabama, studying Spanish and music. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

Her fiancé, a senior student at the Alabama university, is majoring in Industrial Relations. His fraternity is Pi Kappa Phi.

The wedding of the young couple is tentatively planned for the spring of 1972.

Two other members, who were initiated at the same time as Mrs. Langolf, will be sent flowers. They are Mrs. Frida Shanks, a patient at the Anna Henry Nursing Home in Edwardsville, and Mrs. Grace Brown, who is in a nursing home in California.

The August meeting was presided over by Noble Grand Mary Scroggins. The Madison Lodge was represented by Mrs. Leo Salmon, Mrs. Lucille Veach and Mrs. Daisy Burnett.

Lunch was served to 17 members and the visitors.

Auto Found Burned

The stolen auto of Lola Baker, 229 Monroe St., was recovered by Madison County Sheriff's deputies this week after having been stripped and burned. Mrs. Baker reported that $94 cash in a bag under the driver's seat was taken, as were the bucket seats. The auto was stolen from in front of her home Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Harmony Class to Install Officers

New officers to be installed by the Harmony Class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church at the September meeting of the group include: Edgar Paddock, president; Cleveland Cox, vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Frohardt, secretary; Harold Lynn, treasurer; Mrs. Fern Hahn, corresponding secretary; and Dale Carper, Sunday morning secretary.

Plans for the installation were furthered at a weekend meeting in Wesley Hall. Clyde Meyers, the retiring president, opened the business session and Harold Lynn offered prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Vail, guests, entertained the members with slides taken on a trip to Norway, and East and West Berlin, Germany. Refreshments were served from tables decorated with arrangements of barley and wheat.

Matching place mats carried out the harvest theme. The host and hostess committee was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Richardson.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Frohardt, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Barnes, Mrs. Ruby Corbett, Mrs. Ruth Purkey and Mrs. Verna Willrott.

SERVICEMAN, FAMILY ARRIVE FOR VISIT

Army Sergeant Clarence E. Blackburn, with Mrs. Blackburn and their children, Kenneth, Lisa and Cindy, will arrive here this week for a brief visit with Mrs. Blackburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jackson, 1538 Second St., Madison, enroute to his new assignment at Fort Sill, Okla.

For the past few weeks the Blackburns have resided near Fort Lee, Va., while Sgt. Blackburn attended Quartermaster School. He returned recently from his third tour of duty in Vietnam. During his last Vietnam tour Mrs. Blackburn and the children remained in Arizona where the serviceman was stationed prior to going overseas.

24 Orphans From VFW National Home Enjoy Day

Twenty four "very special" young baseball players spent Monday here as guests of VFW Post 1300 of Granite City. The boys are orphans from the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich. They left the home Friday to visit VFW posts in the state and were guests of Alton Post 1380 Saturday and Sunday, arriving here today to be introduced to swimming, delicious meals and a Cardinal baseball game. Arriving in a bus and a station wagon, the boys and their coaches and Edgar Larson, assistant director of the Department of Illinois National Home, met officials of the local post at the Granite City Army installation where the baseball players were housed. Army style. Many of the youths commented it was first time they had ever been on a military installation. While there the boys were allowed to swim in the Army pool or to just relax in their bunks.

Honored at Banquet Monday evening the Granite City VFW post honored them at a banquet where they were welcomed by Magnus Leisner, commander of Post 1300, and Irl Pabst, senior vice-commander. Following the banquet, members of Wood River VFW post arrived to take the boys to a Cardinals baseball game. The game, the youths cheered the Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets and filled up on popcorn and peanuts. They returned to the Granite City Army installation too excited to sleep but to tired not to, and after the usual rounds of pillow fights and wrestling it was lights out and all were soon asleep. Tuesday morning the boys awoke to taps and were treated to a free breakfast at the Grand Cafe, 1413 Twentieth St., courtesy of the cafe management. After breakfast the baseball players boarded their bus to tour Springfield and then returned to Eaton Rapids. All orphans of Veterans of Foreign Wars are eligible for care at the National Home where a natural home life is simulated in "cottages" (650,000 homes) with five to 15 boys and girls and a cottage mother in each cottage. The cottage mother cooks for the boys and girls and the youths are assigned tasks to keep the cottage clean. The VFW posts in each state support one cottage and buy gifts for the children. A bicycle is presented to each child upon arrival and numerous other gifts follow on Christmas and special holidays. Members of the Senior Team of Coach Joe Torre who visited here were Phil Spence, Tom Speese, Steve Esterlia, Don Fleming, George Lantz, Brian Poppe, Tim Nowak, Ron Jurgens, Dale Lauerma, Floyd Bria, Kip Wills and Thad Nowak. Boys from 14 to 18 years of age qualify for the senior team. Junior team members visiting here with their Coach Craig Comiskey were Fred VanWanombert, Lance Fennick, Joe Case, Mike Speese, Lyle Fredrickson, Bob Case, Jim Kellens, Bob Westfall, Rick Cyr, Steve Tim McCalab, an employee of the home, acted as bus driver and escort for the trip.

Public Notices 34 Notice is hereby given on the pendency of a petition in the Circuit Court of Madison County, Third Judicial Circuit, Edwardsville, Illinois, wherein VERA IOLA (EVANS) FRY is Plaintiff and WILBERT EUGENE EVANS is Defendant, which suit is No. 64-D-157 in Chancery and is for Petition to Modify and Vacate. The Plaintiff, VERA IOLA (EVANS) FRY, is to be served by publication. Default may be taken on or after October 12, 1971 in the Courthouse, in Edwardsville, Illinois. Willard V. HAPPY ARRIVAL. Twenty-four boys, members of the VFW National Home for orphans of Veterans of Foreign Wars, arrived in Granite City to be treated to swimming, free meals and a Cardinal baseball game. Leading the boys to a barracks at the Granite City Army installation is Sgt. Billy Welch, while Irl Pabst, senior vice-commander of the local VFW post (wearing tie), keeps the boys in single file.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS. Show a group of 24 boys a camera and they will begin clowning. These boys, residents of the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich., were no exception as they were hosted here by VFW Post 1300.

Granite City 'Oldster' Recalls Long Athletic Career as Runner, Skater

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Frank "Sally" Johnson, renowned Granite City marathon runner, skater and all-around athlete, recently celebrated his 82nd birthday.

He hung up his roller skates just a few short years ago and ran in his last marathon in 1928, but he is still very much alive and still active in his favorite sport, roller skating—now as a spectator.

The nickname "Sally" was given the athlete in 1900 by the late Frank Magnus of Granite City, a well known sandlot baseball pitcher. Johnson used to catch for Magnus and to spark the pitcher would call encouragement.

"Come on, Maggie," and "put it in there, Maggie" were familiar calls to those who watched the pair in action.

Magnus apparently disliked his nickname and in return began calling his catcher "Sally," in an attempt to get Johnson to drop the "Maggie" nickname. The name finally stuck and many still refer to the former athlete by the nickname.

Began Skating

In 1903, Johnson discovered a skating rink over on Louis street and began skating there. "Learning to roller skate was the luckiest thing I've ever done. It got into my blood," he recalled.

"I would go skating as often as I could scratch up enough money, usually three or four times a week," he commented. The following year, several local businessmen pooled their capital and constructed a roller skating rink at 18th and State streets in Granite City. Johnson became a regular at the rink and began racing other local skaters.

"In a short time I could beat all of them so I started entering skating races in St. Louis," Johnson said. By his 25th birthday he had raced at rinks in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Ohio.

He broke the world 10-mile skating speed record, winning two world championships, failing to qualify for the finals in one in Cincinnati and placing sixth in a St. Louis world championship.

Marathon Runner

In 1908, while breaking into the roller skating "big time," Johnson was playing right field for the Good Luck Cubs at Washington Park and made his first attempt at marathon running.

"Labor Day has always been a lucky day for me and all of my big trophies were won on that day," the runner recalls. Labor Day of that year earned him his first big trophy as he defeated three Chicago runners and five St. Louis top runners in a St. Louis Hardware Dealer's 10-mile race. In a later race he defeated Joe Erbeben, then the top runner in the Missouri Athletic Club, to become one of the top runners in St. Louis.

Headlines in 1909 fluctuated, "Johnson Wins Distance Race," "Joe Erbeben Wins Star's Marathon," "Frank Johnson Again in Front," "Johnson Wins 7-Mile Run—Local Boy Again Beaten By Joe Erbeben" and "Frank Johnson of Granite City And Erbeben Run Dead Heat."

The two runners did indeed remain in a dead heat, splitting victories until Erbeben's retirement. Today Erbeben resides in Houston, Tex., and he and Johnson visit each other occasionally to discuss some of the world's greatest marathons.

Antelope Gallop

One early race between the pair was described in 1909: "It was at this point of the race that Johnson, the unknown hero of Granite City, got into the race. He came up from a bunch in the rear, passed (Joe) Forshaw and (Abner) Zahnen, and fell in behind Erbeben."

According to technical rules of criticism he had no stride at all. But the ease with which he and the late Henry Flaxman antelope gallop was impressive. He was immediately marked as the best long-shot in the race.

The end of the 26-mile event also was described. "A crowd of Johnson's friends from Granite City had come into East St. Louis to see how he was doing. He was not doing very well at this stage of the race, and had allowed two men to get between him and Forshaw. But when he heard the shouts of encouragement from his admirers, he got his antelope stride into working order again and succeeded in finishing in seventh place."

"It was not unusual for me to enter three or four picnic races of five or 10 miles each week," Johnson recalled. "On those days it wasn't much of a picnic without a race," he added.

East Side's Hope

As the East Side's hope in the large St. Louis races, Johnson claimed more than his share of space in the papers. Part of one race with Joe Forshaw was described as follows: "Johnson had two friends accompanying him in an auto. They put water on his every few minutes. Forshaw was battling right along with Johnson. Johnson's friends showed their sportsmanship by putting water on Forshaw several times, also. Once Johnson passed Forshaw and gained a five-yard lead. Johnson sprinted and passed Johnson again. Johnson sprinted, Forshaw sprinted," and the race continued.

During this period Johnson was employed alternately by Granite City Steel Co. and the Commonwealth General Steel Industries, with the companies supporting him and his family when he was entered in the races. "They were wonderful to me," he recalled.

"During a race a company official would visit my family and ask if there was anything they needed, and if they asked for anything they would get twice as much as they asked for," he said.

His wife, the former Miss Clara Grothjahn, married him in 1910. "She was wonderful," Johnson commented. "Whenever I'd mention a race, she'd tell me if it was what I wanted to do, then to do it," he added.

Bought Rink

The thrill of marathon running began to wear a bit thin after 10 years so Johnson began looking for a new hobby. He recalled the American Legion had a portable dance hall that had been moved from Granite City to Venice. After it became too hot for dancing, he offered to rent it for a roller skating rink.

"That had always been my dream, to start a rink," he said. He purchased used skates from other rinks and went into business. With the help of his son, Frank Jr., Harry Grothjahn, and his daughter, Alice, he operated the makeshift rink three summers. In 1935 he purchased a tent and set up a summer tent rink across from the high school for five years.

Johnson rented a dance hall at 18th and State streets and operated there several more seasons. During this period, he and the late Henry Flaxman of Granite City teamed up and bought the building which housed the Granite City Diamond Jubilee Headquarters at 1930 Edison Ave.

They set up a permanent rink there which they and their families operated until 1946, when the Johnson Roller Rink was constructed at 1823 Cleveland Blvd.

"It was the high point of my life when that rink opened," the skater commented. Johnson's retirement from marathon races was interrupted only once during this period when three St. Louis sports writers called him and begged him to represent St. Louis in C. C. Pyle's famous Trans-Continental foot race from Los Angeles to New York.

"I hadn't run in about 10 years but when they asked me to do it I said sure on the spot without a moment's hesitation," Johnson recalled. He immediately went into training for the long race, then left for Los Angeles for three weeks of training for the 3,400 mile trek. Qualifying included a run of 60 miles after which each runner was examined by three doctors before being allowed to enter the race.

On Sunday, March 4, 1938, 252 runners left the Ascot Speedway in Los Angeles, hoping to reach New York 75 days later. Johnson marched through Needles, Ariz., and on into Albuquerque, N. M., leaving there with swollen feet and ankles.

Wife Interviewed

A famous interview with his wife after the race has been printed in Robert Smith's book, "The Grantland Rice Award Prize Sports Stories" in which she told a newsman, "You may think he's healthy, but that's just because he makes him look that way. He's hollow from head to heel. I can't prepare enough food for him."

"You'd should have seen him when he got home. His left ankle was swollen to twice its normal size. His lips were cracked so badly they bled when he tried to eat. His nose was blistered and he hobbled like a cripple." Smith entitled the chapter on the race "The Wonderful Bunion Derby," she stated.

After about 500 miles, Johnson stopped in a drug store owned of Albuquerque and was eating when two local doctors approached him, examined his ankles and advised him to quit. "I stuck it out one more day and quit," the runner stated. He completed 981 miles and was among only 85 still running when he resigned from the event.

Returned a Hero Johnson returned, a local sports hero, and settled into the semi-quiet life of a roller skating rink operator. His wife died in 1946, shortly after the Johnson Roller Rink was constructed and he managed the rink himself until 1958, when he sold it to the Stopkotte family which still operates it.

He continued to skate until four years ago when his legs began failing and he was forced to quit. He said the present owners have been wonderful to him and he "helps" them with the rink just to be near skaters and to watch and remember.

A trophy case full of Johnson's best awards hangs in the rink in a place of honor and the former athlete often looks at the trophies and recalls, "see those three big trophies. I won all of them on Labor Day."

As Labor Day again draws near, Quad-City residents will have completed a celebration of 75 years of the city's history, a history of which Frank "Sally" Johnson was very much a part.

Venice Women's Club to Honor Duo

A reception and program to honor the winners of two scholarships furnished by the Venice Women's Club will take place at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10 at the Venice Recreation Center.

The scholarship recipients who will be honored next week are David Welch and Miss Susan Stern. Both are graduates of Venice High School and currently are in their junior year of study at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern campus.

Principal speakers at the reception will be Mrs. Sand (North) Innes, wife of Lt. Roger Innes, U. S. Navy who has been missing in action in Vietnam since December 1967, and Attorney Leo H. Konzen, an active civic leader.

An honor student at SIU-SW and a member of the university's Dean's List, Miss Stern, is majoring in Elementary Education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Welch, 503 Washington Ave., Venice.

Welch, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Welch, 1251 Oriole St., was graduated from Belleville Township Junior College and transferred to SIU-SW to study Urban and Environmental Engineering. He is seeking a degree in Civil Engineering.

While a student at Venice High School, Welch constructed a scale model of the present Venice Recreation Center and received awards for architectural design in competition sponsored by the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

Both young people will receive $100 scholarship grants. To date, the Venice Women's Club has provided a total of $3,200 in scholarship awards to deserving students.

Conduct Charge Filed

Gary Watts, 28, of 2010 Sixth St., Madison, was arrested at the home of Barbara Pumphrey, 2018 Park St., at 10:45 p.m. Monday and charged with disorderly conduct. He was released at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday on $250 bond.
